Federal Association of Interpreters and Translators (Bundesverband der Dolmetscher und Übersetzer e.V. (BDÜ)): BDÜ represents around 80% of all translators and interpreters who belong to a professional association in Germany. The membership database contains the contact data of more than 7,500 qualified interpreters and translators covering more than 80 languages. The membership database can be searched for translators or interpreters. A translator works with a text, producing a written translation of it in another language, whereas an interpreter works with the words spoken in a language, providing an oral translation in another language.
